Case Study Areas:

IT Support, Branch Office Connections
McAfee Total Protection, Junk Email

Issues:

Clark Howes had information spread across three offices and a solution was needed that centralised email, data and applications.

The solution

Imtex specified and now provide on-going support to a centralised IT system at Clark Howes.

Due to the bandwidth requirements of various accounting applications Imtex specified the use of a Terminal Server to support users at remote branch offices.

This enables all applications and data to be stored and backed up at one central location but accessed from PCs at any of Clark Howes' branch offices. Applications that would not have worked across Internet links are now usable by all staff.

Imtex also provide a company wide license for McAfee Total Protection. This ensures all systems across three offices are secured against virus and spyware threats, as well as against junk email.
